

Family Works Family Start Programme

It's all about the kids

Through the Family Start Programme we work alongside parents and caregivers to enhance the health, education and social outcomes of their children. This is a free home-based programme that provides support and education to parents of unborn babies or babies under one year old. We will work with families until their children start school.

How does it work?

- Each family works with the Te Anau family/whānau worker who will work with you to develop a plan that best suits your needs
- The family/whānau worker will then work alongside your family to help you reach the goals set out in your plan
